

Canadian North is a northern airline providing essential passenger and cargo service to communities across Nunavut, the Northwest Territories, and northern Quebec. With a network of nearly 30 destinations, the airline connects remote northern communities with key southern hubs, supporting travel, supply chains, and daily life in the North. As a critical service provider, Canadian North moves millions of pounds of cargo each year, ensuring communities have reliable access to healthcare supplies, food, and other essential goods.

About the Operator

- Headquarters: Ottawa, ON
- Pilot Base: Ottawa, ON; Edmonton, AB; Calgary, AB; Iqaluit, NU; Yellowknife, NT
- Services: Scheduled passenger flights, Cargo Services, Simulator Training
- Fleet Size: 32
- Aircraft Type: 737, ATR 42, ATR 72
- Active Pilots: 215
- Average pilot flight hours per year: 400- 600 hours

Career Growth

- Leadership and training opportunities: Pilots can advance into extra-duty roles such as Instructor, Training Captain, ACP, or CRM Instructor through Canadian North's diverse fleet and training environment.
- Varied flying experience: Operating both scheduled and charter services gives pilots exposure to different parts of the industry and supports long-term career growth.

Lifestyle & Scheduling

- Workload: ~17 days per month
- Scheduling: Pilots bid days off.
- Lifestyle: Pilots at Canadian North experience a unique northern lifestyle based across the Arctic and southern hubs. With bases and operations throughout Nunavut and the Northwest Territories, as well as southern cities like Ottawa, Montreal, and Edmonton, pilots can choose between living in vibrant northern communities or larger urban centres.

See where we fly

canadiannorth.com |     Canadian North Airlines