

Keewatin Air has been a trusted lifeline in the Canadian Arctic for over 50 years, delivering essential medevac and air transport services across some of the country's most remote regions. Founded as a charter operator serving the Keewatin Region of the Northwest Territories, the company has evolved into a worldclass medevac and charter airline. Today, Keewatin Air operates a modern, custom equipped fleet supporting communities throughout Nunavut, the Northwest Territories, and Northern Manitoba.

About the Operator

- Headquarters: Winnipeg, MB
- Pilot Base: Winnipeg, MB; Churchill, MB; Thompson, MB; Rankin Inlet, NU; Iqaluit, NU; Yellowknife, NWT
- Services: Medevac, and on-demand charter
- Fleet Size: 25
- Aircraft Type: PC12, BE20, C560, PC24
- Active Pilots: 150
- Average pilot flight hours per year: 500 hours

Career Growth

- Training department positions
- Quickly build flight hours and experience to earn your fourth stripe and upgrade from First Officer to Captain

Lifestyle & Scheduling

- Workload: 14 days per month
- Scheduling: Rotational (2 weeks on, 2 weeks off)
- Lifestyle: Pilots flying with Keewatin Air in Nunavut, Manitoba, and the Northwest Territories are part of a mission-driven northern operation where aviation directly supports patient care and community well-being. This meaningful work is paired with an authentic northern lifestyle shaped by close-knit communities, striking landscapes, and exceptional outdoor opportunities. Pilots may choose to live in one of our northern bases or live elsewhere in Canada, with company-paid commuting to and from major hubs.

See our bases of operation

keewatinair.ca